Based on the county maps it appears that the playa is a mix of private and BLM lands. Most of the larger parcels are an equal mix of BLM and New Nevada Lands. Alternating every other parcel. Some of the other privately owned sections are 40 acre parcels held by trusts or private owners.

Directions to Jungo South Playa:

From Lovelock NV:

Drive East on I-80 to Imlay NV. Take the Imlay exit (147??), turn left and go under the overpass. Turn left on the Frontage road and follow to the 2nd RH turn. Take the Imlay Jungo Road on the right, and follow for about 18 miles to a 4-way junction out in the valley. Turn right at the junction and travel North for about 10 miles. You will be coming into an area where there are some houses. North of this area, the road will make a gentle left hand bend. Look towards the right and you will see a gate about 100 yards off the road. That is the entrance to the playa. Close the gate behind you.

From Winnemucca NV:

In the center of town, take highway 95 north towards Boise. After passing under the highway overpass, and crossing over the Humboldt River, turn left onto Jungo Road. Stay left and follow Jungo Road west for about 38 miles. The RR tracks will be on your left for a majority of the trip. At 35 miles out, you will pass the Jungo Middle Playa on the right. Continue west on Jungo Road, cross over the tracks, then about a mile down you will find the Imlay Road on the left. Turn left and proceed about a quarter of a mile to the gentle right hand bend. Look to the left for the gate. If you are pulling a trailer or other low-slung vehicle, get into the left hand bar ditch just before the turn and follow to the gate road.
